

For the O-Week Carnival Day AMESS was able to bring a mechanical bull for the students. It added to the theme and vibe for the day and created a fantastic photo opportunity.

Getting the bull in the right spot was key, unfortunately we could not put it directly in front of student central as no vehicles are allowed up there, but just to the side was perfectly suited.

Approximately 4 hours of hire time was enough to see many people get peer pressured into jumping on the bull by their friends, even they managed to achieve some good hold times. Overall it was a successful event that gave students a chance to do something fun and challenging that they normally wouldn't have.
