THE TREATY OF WAITANGI:

Preamble

Victoria, Queen of England, in her concern to protect the chiefs and sub-tribes of New Zealand and in her desire to preserve their chieftainship and their lands to them and to maintain peace and good order considers it just to appoint an administrator one who will negotiate with the people of New Zealand to the end that their chiefs will agree to the Queen's government being established over all parts of this land and (adjoining) islands and also because there are many of her subjects already living on this land and others yet to come.

So the Queen desires to establish a government so that no evil will come to Maori and European living in a state of lawlessness.

So the Queen has appointed me, William Hobson a captain in the Royal Navy to be Governor for all parts of New Zealand (both those) shortly to be received by the Queen and (those) to be received hereafter and presents to the chiefs of the Confederation chiefs of the sub-tribes of New Zealand and other chiefs these laws set out here.

Article the First

The Chiefs of the Confederation and all the chiefs who have not joined that Confederation give absolutely to the Queen of England for ever the complete government over their land.

Article the Second

The Queen of England agrees to protect the chiefs, the sub-tribes and all the people of New Zealand and the unqualified exercise of their chieftainship over their lands, villages and all their treasures. But on the other hand the chiefs of the Confederation and all the chiefs will sell land to the Queen at a price agreed to by the person owning it and by the person buying it (the later being) appointed by the Queen as her purchase agent.

Article the Third

For this agreed arrangement, therefore concerning the Government of the Queen, the Queen of England will protect all the ordinary people of NZ and will give them the same rights and duties of citizenship as the people of England.

(Signed) W, Hobson, Consul and Lieutenant Governor

So we, the Chiefs of the Confederation and of the sub-tribes of New Zealand meeting here in Waitangi having seen the shape of these words which we accept and agree to record our names and our marks thus, was done at Waitangi on the 6th of February in the year of our Lord, 1840. This reconstruction accepted by the Waitangi Tribunal and the New Zealand Court of Appeal.
